Dear Tim and Kris,

"The O'Shea Report" was a huge asset to the success of American Payroll Association's 25th Annual Silver Safari Congress in Las Vegas this past May! Your TV-style Congress news updates were hilarious. "The O'Shea Reports" were hilarious, while also delivering useful information in a very creative format. We have had speakers and entertainers at Congress before to recap and provide conference information but nothing as entertaining as the two of you!

Kris and Tim, you both did an incredible job mastering the payroll lingo (including acronyms) and the issues payroll professionals have to tackle everyday. As a result, you delivered topical skits loaded with insider humor that made each and every one of your performances a highlight of the Congress.

Here's a sampling of the comments made by Congress attendees:

"Tim and Kris are wickedly funny!"

"I never laughed so hard at myself and my profession."

"Are you sure the O'Sheas' aren't former payroll professionals?"

"I hope we get to see them again at Congress!"

One of the most important aspects of your participation was that the two of you were as engaged in the overall APA Congress experience and with our members as much off stage as you all were onstage.

Rest assured, we are exploring ways we can use your talents again at a future APA event.

Thanks again for exceeding our expectations and keeping us all in stitches.

Best regards,
