

Scott Greenberg Speaker Bio

For over 20 years, Scott Greenberg has captivated audiences with his high-energy presentations on leadership and peak performance mindset. His diverse client list includes Nike, Coffee Beanery, the Wyndham Hotel Group, the U.S. Air Force and countless other businesses and organizations. He's presented in all 50 U.S. states, as well as in Canada, Ecuador, Jamaica, Croatia, Aruba and Saudi Arabia.

Discussing both skill set and mindset, Scott helps business leaders and their teams elevate performance and grow their companies. He challenges conventional thinking and gets people immediately focused on the ideas and action that matter most.

In 2005, Scott built his first of two "Edible Arrangements" franchises in Los Angeles. Over the next ten years, his operation regularly ranked among the top-grossing franchises in California and won the Edible Arrangements "Best Customer Service" and "Manager of the Year" awards out of more than 1000 franchisees worldwide.

Scott received his bachelor's degree from UCLA in 1992 and was awarded a scholarship to attend graduate film school at New York University. He was diagnosed with cancer after only one semester and returned to California for treatment. After successfully beating the disease, he celebrated by running the Los Angeles Marathon to raise money for cancer research.
