

Jeff Civillico Keynote Program

Work That Matters

Jeff enables a renewed sense of passion, purpose, and gratitude in attendees' work and lives by challenging the audience to view where they are personally and professionally as a new type of starting point. Attendees walk away more engaged with what they do, and why they do it. Jeff is the perfect presenter for companies who look beyond numbers to the importance of caring for "the whole person."